

DEVELOPER BRIEF — VERSION 1.0

Funnel Pages: Additional Changes

Final structural and trust signal updates for both the Contractors and Home Builders funnel pages to maximize ad conversion.

Pages: /contractors AND /home-builders

Goal: Remove remaining conversion friction points identified in the second-pass audit.

Scope: Apply these changes to BOTH funnel pages.

OVERVIEW

Final Friction Points to Remove

After a second-pass audit of both the Contractors and Home Builders funnel pages, we identified three remaining areas that are creating friction or distracting users from the primary conversion goal. Apply the following three changes to both funnel pages.

CHANGE 1

Remove the "Included in Every Plan" 2-Year Refresh Section

Location: The section titled "INCLUDED IN EVERY PLAN · NO EXTRA COST / Every 2 Years, You Get a Brand-New Website" (with the timeline graphic showing Year 0, Year 2, Year 4).

Why: This section is excellent for a main website pricing page where users are making long-term vendor decisions. However, on a paid ad funnel page where the goal is simply to get them to request a free demo, talking about what happens in Year 4 is a distraction. It introduces unnecessary complexity and future commitment anxiety.

Action: Delete this entire section from both funnel pages.

CHANGE 2

Remove the Top Announcement Bar

Location: The thin orange bar at the very top of the page ("May Only: Get a Free Custom Homepage Demo...").

Why: You already have a dedicated "Limited May Offer" box prominently displayed inside the Hero section right above the primary CTA button. Having the top bar duplicates the message, pushes the main Hero headline further down the page, and makes the page look cluttered.

Action: Remove the top announcement bar completely from both funnel pages. Let the Hero section carry the offer.

Simplify the "What Happens After Launch" Section

Location: The "YOU'RE NOT ON YOUR OWN / What Happens After Launch?" section.

Why: This section is currently a wall of text. Paid ad traffic skims. We need to reduce the reading load while keeping the core trust signals.

Action: Convert the four paragraphs into a simple 4-point bulleted or icon list. Use the exact copy below.
